

Adjectives

During the adjective unit, the first grade students will learn to use adjectives in their writing to create a more descriptive sentence. After a brief discussion about adjectives, the students found adjectives in our school, as well as, identified them in an art print. A circle map was created to record their findings. The students then used body movements to dramatize descriptive words. The students used this knowledge to brainstorm adjectives that described themselves. They created a self portrait using oil pastels and labeled their art with those adjectives. We use cotton balls to make our portraits 3D.
